

Bites and stings service at the Hospital of Tropical Diseases

Tropical Medicine is a nationally commissioned service and the bites, stings, and animal-related injury service at the Hospital for Tropical Diseases offers high-quality, specialised treatment, care, and expert advice to patients who have experienced animal or plant-related injuries.

The team can provide treatment and advice on a wide range of conditions including:

- insect bites and stings
 - animal bites and stings
 - plant stings and injuries
 - infections following animal injuries
 - advice on exposure to infected animals and animal products
 - ectoparasite management
 - animal identification
-

Eligibility Criteria

Exclusions: patients under 18 years

How to Refer

Referral methods: e-RS, Email

Refer via e-RS or email uclh.htdadmin@nhs.net

How to find service on e-RS

- Specialty: Infectious Diseases
- Clinic type: Tropical Infections
- Service name: General Infectious Disease (RAS) – HTD Outpatients – UCLH – RRV

Patients can also be referred from the walk in clinic.

Location:

Hospital for Tropical diseases, Mortimer Market Centre Capper St London WC1E 6JD

Service Feedback uclh.htdadmin@nhs.net